

New America

A Society of Professional Journalists Award

ELIGIBILITY

SPJ's New America Award honors public service journalism that exposes an issue of importance to immigrant or ethnic communities living in the United States. Although not required, collaboration with ethnic media is taken into account.

To be eligible, work must have been published or broadcast during the 2011 calendar year. SPJ welcomes nominations from media outlets, journalists, community and issue advocacy groups, individuals and others concerned with ethnic and immigrant issues.

Visit www.spj.org/a-newamerica.asp for details.

GENERAL INFORMATION

- Submission must include 4 COMPLETE COPIES of the entry. (All four copies of the entry should contain an entry form, cover letter and the published work).
- Incomplete entries will be disqualified.
- Mark the date of the publication or broadcast on the entry form.
- Material submitted for the contest will not be returned.
- Entries may be in any language, however, English translations must be supplied for entries that are not in English. For broadcast entries, transcripts in English are required.
- There is no entry fee.
